ENTERTAINING TWO HUNDRED CHILDREN

5/26/16

Among the 2,200 patients at the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria there are some 200 children. The education and entertainment of so many youngsters adds materially to the administrative problems. Many of the boys and girls come from homes in which they have been deprived of the care and healthful environment conducive to proper growth and development, both mentally and physically, others have been more fortunate.

Under the kindly supervision of the nurses and doctors at the State Sanatoria each youngster is considered as an individual and an effort made to develop their characters and arouse an interest in things which will be beneficial to them.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, has included in the treatment of these little patients a short session each day in the open air school where the rudimentary branches are taught, and, in addition, nature study which is supplemented by walks through the woods with nurse and teacher, the simpler crafts such as basket weaving, modeling and rug weaving. In the wards there are games, a phonograph and other simple entertainments.

Children respond rapidly to treatment for tuberculosis, and after a few months proper care, with rest, good food, and carefully supervised exercise, they are able to go back to their homes with a fair chance in life so far as their health is concerned.

Cornerstone at Sanatorium Chapel Placed in Hands Of the Sub-Contractor

On last Friday a copper box with contents was placed in the hands of the stone sub-contractor of the Sanatorium Chapel to be put in the cornerstone. The box was contributed by Mr. C. J. Howe. In it was coin of the Realm donated by the two banks, church papers of various Protestant denominations and of the Catholic Church with a short history of Father Gallitzin. A short history of the building was added, giving the credit of the suggestion of the Union Chapel to Dr. Turnbull, the backing up of the enterprise by Mrs. Thaw together with the names of the building committee, the architect and the contractor. In the box also will be found when the walls crumble in the centuries to come several articles on the Chapel, and especially a leaflet containing a picture of the Chapel and a part of the Sanatorium, and not least a copy of the Cresson Record. Rev. Helm and Father McGee alone were present when the box was handed over.

NEW TEACHER

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday night it was decided to employ another teacher for the grades of the Cresson schools. Heretofore grades five, six and seven have been in charge of only two teachers and as a result the children in these three grades have necessarily failed to get the proper care and instruction. This year, owing to the increased enrollment, conditions were even worse than before and the Board decided to discontinue the injustice to both pupils and teachers by employing a teacher for the fifth grade, thus giving each of the grades mentioned a teacher.

The Rev. Dr. C. C. Hays and the Rev. S. L. Postlethwait, both of Johnstown, were at the Sanatorium Sunday to note the progress made on the new chapel being erected on the grounds through the generosity of Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw. They came up in Dr. Hay's automobile.
Work is proceeding on the interior of the structure, which is of solid stone taken from quarries on the sanatorium premises. Operations have been hindered somewhat during the summer because of the scarcity of labor, but it is believed that the chapel will be ready for use within a short time now. It will be used both for Catholic and Protestant services.

Altoona Contractor Buys Mountain House

The historic Mountain house, which in years gone by was the gathering place for millionaires and presidents while at play, was sold Wednesday to P. S. Cassidy, a contractor of Altoona. The building was owned by the Pennsylvania railroad and had been closed since 1898. The consideration was not made public, but the contractor agreed to remove the structure and restore the ground to good condition.

Comedy Stock Company At The Dreamland

10/13/16
A pleasant surprise was given the patrons of the Dreamland Theatre last night at the opening play of the Mell Stock Co. It is seldom such a fine acting company appears in as small a village as Cresson. As the company was well advertised they were greeted by a full house and the company responded with presenting their opening play "Every Woman's Husband," in a high class manner.
The story of the play closely resembles that of "Bought and Paid For,"
but is a much better play from a comedy standpoint. Mr. Mell Russell as Frederic Carter a big business man who proposes to Dainty Dolly Russell as Sylvia Ward, a pretty stenographer and is accepted. Carter later proves to be a tyrannical drinking husband and altho Sylvia loves him devotedly she leaves him and goes back to live with her sister Dot Phillips as Margie Ward and her husband A. Paul D'Mathot as Danny Williams. Danny tries to set things right and phones Carter. Sylvia has forgive him, Carter sees the error of his ways and reforms, takes Sylvia back and the divorce evil is avoided.
Danny and Margie furnish screams of laughter all throughout the play.
As for the acting and costuming it could not be better, in fact that was the pleasant surprise spoken of as we are not in the habit of getting that with the shows that usually play here.

Dainty Dolly Russell was charming as Sylvia the little stenographer and her argument upholding the honor of wife-hood struck a response aloud with all the ladies present. Mell Russell gave a powerful portrayal of the man of big business and his drunken brutality.

A. Paul D'Mathot's portrayal of Danny Williams stamped him as a real light comedian and brought rovis of laughter in every scene. One thing is sure, A. Paul can change clothes as often as Wm. Rudolph Hearst can change politics.

The fall hunting season for this state will open Monday. To many it is looked forward to as an important event, especially so by the owner of gun and bird dog. It has long been the aim of the game department to serve the increasing army of hunters in two ways, first, by limiting the numbers of game birds and game animals that may lawfully be taken, and secondly, by providing for the next year's propagation of game. There are about four hundred thousand hunters in the state. The figures are so large as to seem excessive, but by reason of the licenses issued to the hunters, the state knows exactly how many licensed hunters there are. Placed at four hundred thousand in round numbers, it is about the correct figure.

A BIG FUSS ABOUT NOTHING

They are making a fuss about a diet squad living on forty cents a day for each member of the family. That is nothing to blow about. We have known a lot of folks who would have been glad to have been sure of half that much and yet they did not starve. We know families in this neighborhood of half a dozen members where the head of the house was only one who brought anything home and his wage was eighteen cents an hour. In summer time he worked ten hours and during the winter months eight or nine hours a day. We have two families in mind who each secured a home before the children were big enough to help and the highest wage they ever received was a dollar and eight cents a day. We know of course that some things are higher now than during the period we speak of, but making allowance for the increase cost of living, there is nothing to be alarmed about. Work is plenty, wages good, and if we have to live a little plainer, it will not stunt our growth or keep us from sleeping sound.

THE DEAD TOWN

Did you ever go into a town and, as you stepped from the train, have it strike you suddenly that the town was dead? Have you ever had a town described to you as a "dead"

can be restored to health if they begin taking treatment now?

These questions are put directly to the people of Cresson. They are being asked at this time because of the annual sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals, of which 500,000 have been secured for sale in Cambria County. The proceeds from these seals will go toward purchasing tents for the tented colony at the Cresson Sanatorium. Without these tents, the tuberculosis people will be unable to begin taking the necessary treatment now. To put off the treatment means death. The funds will also be used in buying clothing for those unable to buy it. Some of the money will be used in paying the railroad fare of patients to the institution. Considerable money will be spent in taking care of the families of men who have tuberculosis and are being treated at their homes or at the sanatorium. Every town has its tuberculosis people and every town should assist in taking care of its own sick people. Every person in every town can help by buying the Red Cross Christmas seals.

Almost every week, the newspapers are full of death notices and in many instances tuberculosis was the cause of death. In one year 1,546 people died in Cambria county and of this number 157 died from tuberculosis of the lungs, eight from tuberculosis meningitis and ten from other forms of tuberculosis. In one year in Pennsylvania 8,841 died of tuberculosis of the lungs, 557 of tuberculosis meningitis and 814 of other forms of tuberculosis. In one year in the United States, tuberculosis of all forms caused 84,366 deaths.

If tuberculosis people go to the sanatorium, they not only improve their chances of recovering but also prevent other people living with them and near them from contracting the disease. The money received for the Red Cross Christmas seals will save them and will protect you. The Johnstown Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, is in charge of the distribution. The seals will be on sale till New Year's Day.

The mild weather has surely been a blessing to many people on account of the high price of fuel.

Did you ever go into a town and, as you stepped from the train, have it strike you suddenly that the town was dead? Have you ever had a town described to you as a "dead" town? Have you ever stopped to analyze just what is meant by these words "dead town?" In the last analysis they mean just one thing—and that is that the merchants of the town don't advertise. A dead town has certain positive aspects of demerit which are as bald as a piece of crepe hanging on the door of a private house. The stores seem to be merely existing. Their shelves are covered with apparently unsaleable goods. The storekeepers seem to be dying with each other to see which will win the first prize as the town grouch. If you talked with them they knocked the town, they knocked business, they knocked the mail order house. They were continually complaining that other people did business and made money but that they didn't seem to be able to sell anything. They guessed it was the town. Yes, that was it—the town. If you asked that merchant if he advertised, he would have looked at you with amazement. What was the use of advertising when business was so bad? People who had money to spend, he would tell you, were sending it to the mail order houses. No, he would say he didn't advertise? He wouldn't throw good money after bad. On the other hand, go into a live town and what will you see? The merchants have attractive displays in their stores. The newspapers are filled with big announcements of special sales or low priced goods. They are not afraid of the mail order houses because they have the same means to reach the people—advertising—that makes the mail order house great. The merchants have their local association for mutual help, and behind the association the local newspaper is pushing—pushing, pushing. Everybody is working and everybody is happy and boosting. If you want a live town get behind the newspaper and the newspaper will do the rest. Forget the timeworn argument that the paper is a dead one. The paper is alive enough if the people are alive. The surest test of a live town is a live newspaper, and a newspaper can't be alive unless the town boosters do their share.

How many people in Cresson have tuberculosis? How many people in Cresson have died from tuberculosis? How many of those who died could have been saved if they had taken treatment in time? How many of those who are ill at the present time

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., D. Sc., Commissioner of Health

Forty is an unlucky number for men five feet eight or under if it is the waist measure. Any number above that is equally to be avoided. Over weight is dangerous and is indicative of several things. Either the appetite is not controlled, insufficient exercise is taken or the diet is made up of improperly selected food stuffs.

If any or all of these things are to blame it is the part of wisdom to seek advice and begin the remedy forthwith. To sink into the placid indifference of the fat and forty stage is a crime against your health. It means in all probability that the liver and kidneys are overworked and the results of any such strain prolonged is at times fatal.

There is another reason which is worth almost equal consideration. To over-feed undermines one's health. Physical fitness has a distinct bearing on a man's mental attitude and unfitness has also. The man who through neglect and lack of control over his appetite begins to eat himself into an early grave, loses his crispness of thought. The self respect which every man who achieves things should have for himself as a clean well groomed animal, is lacking.

Don't weakly excuse yourself if you have unconsciously slipped into this class. Get busy and work yourself out of it before it is too late.

MARY PICKFORD IN ALTOONA

One of the big scenes in Mary Pickford's new picture, "Less Than the Dust," will be a battle between a horde of the lower caste of India and British troops. Miss Pickford will be seen as a little orphan cast away and in this conflict she saves the life of a young officer who afterwards wins her heart.

SENDS MISINFORMATION

Every now and then some one in the vicinity of Cresson sends mis-information to the Pittsburgh papers about the Sanatorium Chapel. On Wednesday of this week there was a notice in The Gazette-Times that had two or three incorrect state-ments. It said the Chapel was dedi-cated, which is not true, and will not be for some little time. It said the Chapel was donated by Mrs. Mary C. Shaw—notice the name. Mrs. Thaw did not donate the Chapel—she has helped largely in the payments, but she did not donate it. And it is very distasteful to her to have such misinformation go out.

CRESSON RED CROSS SOCIETY

The Red Cross Society was great-ly favored on Monday evening when Dr. Turnbull delivered a most ex-celent address on the present con-ditions and preparedness. Also the solos rendered by Mrs. Edith Helm Connor, of Pittsburgh, were very much enjoyed by all present.

Sixty-seven new members were en-rolled on Monday evening, but every citizen of our town should hand in their name for it is the duty of one and all of us to unite in this great work.

The dance committee is leaving nothing undone to make the Red Cross Dance of June 8th, the biggest and best ever held in Cresson. The tickets for same are now on sale.

The public is to be thanked for the liberal way in which they responded on Tag Day which enabled the society to clear a nice sum to pur-chase materials. $166 was cleared.

We hope to have every member present next Monday evening, when plans will be made for our share in the Decoration Day parade.

Ebensburg secured 400 Red Cross members in one evening, so let us get busy and show that Cresson is just as patriotic as the other towns in our county.

Chinaware and Glass, Wall Paper and Mouldings and Paints and Brushes. This gives but an idea of the general completeness of Cres-son's wonderful department store.

Cresson is justly proud of her new department store. It is a credit to our town and will draw trade from all ends of Cambria County.

COMPENSATION LAWS IGNORE ILLEGITIMATES

The decision of Referee Jacob Snyder in a unusual case from Gal-litzin has been reversed by the work-men's compensation board.

Lawrence McConville of this place was killed while at work. A mar-riage license had been issued and the banns of marriage between the deceased and Sarah Mary Litzinger had been published. Two months after McConville's death the woman gave birth to a child and a claim for compensation was made. The referee allowed the claim, after finding that the deceased was the father of the child. Rendering an opinion in the matter, the compensation board says:

"We have no legislation which by any possible reasoning embraces an illegitimate child, and in the ab-sence of a statute declaring an il-legitimate child a dependent of a deceased father, it cannot be so considered."

The decision of the referee is there-fore reversed.

CHILDREN'S SAVINGS CONTINUES HEAVY

NEW SANATORIUM CHAPEL TO BE DEDICATED SOON

The new chapel for the use of patients of the Cresson Sanatorium will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies in the near future. Three Sunday services have already been held in the new edifice. The Roman Catholics conducted their services there last Sunday morning, when a high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock, with a choir from this place taking part.

Robert Young, a young man from Scottsdale, is Superintendent of the Sunday School, with the Rev. J. S. Helm as teacher of the Bible class of men and women. The chapel is for everybody, regardless of color or creed. The services are interesting and impressive, but sad because of the broken down health of all those who attend.

The new chapel cost about $13,000 and is built of stone. The chairs are of dark oak. The choir sits in a gallery in the front of the building.

There are 670 patients at the Sana-torium now and the new wing is al-most ready for occupancy.

FORMER STATE COLLEGE MAN DIES ON FRENCH BATTLEFIELD

State College, Pa., May 22.—Harold Williamson, formerly con-nected with the department of animal husbandry of the Pennsylv-ania State College, has been killed in action on the British front. Word of his death came to Dr. Edwia E. Sparks, the college president. Wil-lamson, who left here two years ago, was struck by a shell while bringing German prisoners to the rear. He was identified by a news-paper clipping from a State College newspaper, announcing his depar-ture from the college and enlistment with a Canadian regiment.

DEDICATION OF GRACE CHAPEL

The Beautiful Gothic Structure, Built of Stone from the Immediate Surroundings is Well Named

Tuesday was a memorable day in the history of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, situated 2 1/2 miles westward from Cresson; here, on the summit of the Alleghenies is found the purest air and most generous supply of sunshine in this western end of the Keystone State. It is this section for which the Cresson Sanatorium is specifically intended.

The day was one of the absolutely perfect October days for which this Allegheny Mountain region is celebrated; where mere living is a joy to persons in health. It brought cheer to the seven hundred who now comprise that unique colony; for that was the day for dedicating the long hoped for Chapel. Only those who laboriously ministered and brought spiritual consolation to the patients, are able to understand the difficulties through which Protestant and Catholic services were maintained, with no fitting place in which to meet.

The beautiful Gothic structure, built of stone from the immediate surroundings, is well named Grace Chapel. Under its roof the Catholic structure is separated merely by a rolling screen, from the main audience room. That portion of the building had already been consecrated. In the afternoon, following the dedication of the main room; both places of worship were thrown open.

The proceedings were in charge of Rev. Dr. Helm, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Cresson; Rev. Dr. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, preached the sermon in the morning; while in the afternoon, nine clergymen of different denominations, gave five minute talks. Dr. Helm, before introducing the several speakers, voiced the general regret that Father McGee, the Catholic member of the Building Committee, could not be present, by reason of being summoned to Harrisburg on account of his appointment as Army Chaplain.

The house was filled with an interested audience, and the two hundred or more children who occupied the front seats of the Chapel, were grouped in front of the Chancel. The choir were taken. This day was a happy one.

Shall Cresson Have A Public Library?

A movement is on foot in Cresson to start a Public Library. This has been a long felt need here, and there is no reason why a place of this size and population should not have what many smaller towns possess. Of course there could only be a modest library to start with, but it would certainly grow once it was begun. The greatest need at present is the interest of the people. A library can not be maintained either by or for a few.

On next Tuesday evening Miss MacDonald of Harrisburg, a member of the State Free Library Commission, will be in Cresson. She wishes to address the town people on the subject of the organization of a library. If you are interested and wish to have one here, come to the Cresson Club at 7:30 on Tuesday evening to hear Miss MacDonald.

It is to be hoped there will be a good attendance. Here is a chance to show your interest in your town. Come and bring someone with you.

FIRST MEETING MONDAY EVENING; OFFICERS ELECTED

The first meeting of the Cresson Commercial and Civic Association was held in the Auditorium of the First National Bank Building last Monday evening. About thirty members were present.

The organization established its permanency by adopting a Constitution and By-Laws and electing officers.

The officers elected were: President, F. W. Smith, Jr.; Vice President B. C. Seeds; Secretary, J. B. Wagner; Treasurer, George Horten.

According to the number of new members being enrolled, the success of the Association seems assured.

Boost along with them, everybody, and help in something that is bound to do all of us good.

The next meeting of the Association will be held on the 3rd floor of the First National Bank Building, Wednesday evening October 10th, at 8 P. M. - A full attendance is desired, as important business will be transacted.

ABUSE TO DOG A CRIME

To the Editor of The Record

If all residents of Cresson had the benefit of hearing and seeing the abuse inflicted upon an innocent dog, as those do, who live near Keystone Avenue and Second Street, no doubt the town would soon have many enthusiastic workers for the S. P. C. A. One resident of the above mentioned locality seems to feel the need of extreme physical exercise and after fastening a cord or rope about his dog, he proceeds to dangle the animal about at a more or less rapid rate, accompanied by numerous jerks and kicks. If the dog fails to respond to this kindness he is lifted or flung the length of the rope, protesting in his feeble way, with a few mournful howls.

Even Napoleon acknowledged the inability of force to create anything durable, and kindness is a language the deaf can hear and the dumb understand.

Miss Edna Wighamam:— Dear Miss Wighamam, the Red Cross Comfort Kit was this day received by me, and through you I wish to thank the Red Cross Society for the same.

My wishes are for the Red Cross Society, to feel that without such a thing as the Red Cross Society that there would be many uncomferts and much more suffering—in the great crisis that is now occurring and in years past.

My regards to all the members of the Red Cross Society.

from the United States 100,000 tons of sugar during the next month, and probably more during a later period. "Our own situation is that we have just enough sugar to maintain our normal consumption until the first of January, when the new West India crop becomes available. Our consumption is at the rate of 90 lbs. per person, per year—a little under four ounces per day per person. "The French people are on a ration of sugar equal to only 21 pounds per annum, per person—or at the rate of less than one single ounce, per person—a little more than the weight of a silver dollar each day. "The French people will be without sugar for over two months if we refuse to part with enough from our stocks to keep them supplied with even this small allowance, as it is not available from any other quarter. "Sugar, even to a greater amount than the French ration is a human necessity. If our people will reduce by one third their purchases and consumption of candy and of sugar for other uses—than preserving fruit, which we do not wish to interfere with, we can save the French situation. "In the interest of the French people, and of the loyalty we owe them to divide our food in the interest of our common cause, I ask the American people to do this. It is unthinkable that we refuse their request." Seven years ago a famous European student of history prophesied that the next great war of the future would not be won by fighting but by famine. We are today fighting this war, and the famine is indeed threatening to be its arbiter. The men of England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Italy and Belgium—our Allies—are fighting; they are not on the farms. The production of food by these countries has been greatly reduced. Even before the war it was much less than the amount consumed. The difference came more largely from other countries than from America. Now, this difference is greater than ever, and, at the same time, supplies can no longer come from other countries. They must now come from America. Therefore, our Allies depend on us for food as they have never depended before, and they ask us for it with a right they have never had before. For today they are doing the fighting, the suffering and dying—in our war. We must send them the food they have to have. We will send it. But we can only do it by a wise and loyal economy of food on the part of every one of us. We must stimulate our on this day made a triple atonement; "for himself, his household and for the people." This, however, must not be understood in the sense of priestly mediation between God and man. The fact that the High Priest was himself compelled to make atonement for his own sins is conclusive evidence that he could not act as intercessor for the people. Man himself can effect Atonement with his Maker by breaking with his sinful past and consecrating the new life to virtue, and rectitude.

The Day of Atonement expiates sins between man and his maker, but for sins between man and his maker, sins between man and man the conditions precedent to atonement is the redress of the injury." (Talmud, Yoma 85, b). Man must be reconciled with the neighbor he has wronged before he can ask pardon of God.

Atonement is effected by humbling oneself before God in sincere penitence, in abstaining from all worldly pursuits and pleasures, by a day of devout devotion, and thus fully feel the grief of sin and the beauty and holiness of the correct life. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake His way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him and unto God, for He will abundantly pardon." It will be the first appearance of this orchestra in Cresson.

It was calculated that placing a fair on entirely new grounds would cost about $100,000 more. Still, it was nothing like a definite decision on site. The entire matter is being carefully considered from every

Style Show Opens on September 28

As the time of the year has come when men and women, boys and girls, will lay aside their summer togger and think about stocking up their wardrobe for Fall and Winter, the merchant is laying his plans to meet their requirements. As the best means of acquainting the public with what is popular and fashionable, Gross' Dept. store in accordance with a custom that has prevailed the last five or six seasons is going to hold a style show next week. It will be inaugurated on Sept. 28, continuing seven days.

The display is bound to prove interesting to all male and female. The people of Cresson and vicinity are good dressers and they will want to know what is what. It will all be revealed at the style show.

It is violating no confidence to state in advance of the show that the fall and winter modes are very attractive. There are many new ideas. Take for example the names of the materials used in making women's suits, velvetyne, duvet de laine, chamoistyne, evora, velour, tricotine, most of them entirely unfamiliar to the great majority. And they are just as pretty and serviceable as the names are high sounding.

In the matter of colors, there is likewise much that is new, such as copen, sanziban, nakin, droyad and malay, together with the more familiar names of beaver, brown, navys and black.

Men's clothing will be a little more conservative than it has been. Following the somberness of the war period, there was a splurge of flashiness, but the pendulum has again swung the other way. Coats will be a little longer, double as well as single breasted. Ulsters forty-eight to fifty inches long will be popular

Urges Addition to Cresson Sanatorium

Dr. Turnbull Speaks on Tuberculosis Inspection—Says Work of Prevention Should Start with Children.

Stating his belief that the tuberculosis problem and the care of the many advanced cases is too big a job for the State Department of Health to handle adequately alone, Dr. W. G. Turnbull, medical director of the state sanatorium at Cresson, urged representatives of citizen tuberculosis organizations in eight counties of central Pennsylvania to join in a movement to provide county care for victims of the white plague.

Dr. Turnbull spoke Wednesday at a conference in Altoona of persons from eight counties to plan for the 1920 sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds. He said tuberculosis infection has become so general that it is practically impossible to entirely eradicate it and the thing to do is to build up a strong and vigorous race. He declared many hopeless cases are in the Cresson sanatorium because there is no other place to send them but that properly they should be cared for by the county or by some other agency. Because of the great cost to build and maintain an entirely new tuberculosis hospital the speaker urged that the best plan is to build an addition to an existing institution.

The greatest danger of infection is among children and Dr. Turnbull said the work of prevention should begin among the young.

Representatives from the different counties present follow:

Blair—Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Keck, Mrs. R. A. Henderson, Miss Cleona Zink and Dr. E. B. Miller.

Bedford—H. F. Gump, Jr., Mrs. N. Taylor, Mrs. Walter Enfield and Miss Constable Tate.
